Thank you to the 30 people who joined us for CAMREC's Fall Work Weekend! We had a wonderful time of fellowship surrounded by bright fall colors and perfect weather. Firewood was split, hand railings were replaced, windows were washed, pine needles were removed from around all buildings for fire prevention, deep cleaning took place in all buildings, and the new staff house was made ready for its electrical inspection. We also received an $8000 donation to install the siding on the new house! If you were not able to join us but would still like to contribute to caring for CAMREC, consider joining us in the next phases of the house build or donating financially to help get the staff house finished! To donate, click here. To see some pictures from the weekend, click here.

Beryl Jantzi, Everence director of stewardship education, discusses his take on financial policies and practices through the example of the late theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer. For Bonhoeffer, dying to self and the idols of culture was a daily practice of discipleship. Read more about his teachings here: mennoniteusa.org/bonhoeffer-discipleship-money
