The Anabaptist Community Bible will officially launch January 21, 2025 with a global online worship service. You are invited to be part of the lead-in to this service. In the days prior to the service, a compilation of voices reading the text is being compiled. If you would like to offer your voice to this global community, you can volunteer to read now. A passage and instructions on how to accomplish this will be sent. You will log in and read, and be part of the mix of voices reading the word together. See <https://anabaptismat500.com/global-anabaptist-bible-read-a-thon> for more information.

CAMREC Program Committee is looking for input on dates for summer camp this coming summer. This summer is particularly busy with convention and other elements to consider, so we would like to test a number of calendars with everyone for feedback. We have put a survey together and would welcome input, especially from families with people attending camp as well as volunteers. Please find the survey at mennomennonite.org/camrec25.
